Course Description:

This 6-month course offers students an opportunity to learn from experience – “learn by doing”. Students will take part in a combination of field-based practicum experience and monthly practicum classes. Students are required to complete 150 hours of practicum placement. In addition, students will be engaged in 6 practicum classes held once a month for a total of 12 hours. Each student will be writing a reflective journal piece due each practicum class. Throughout the program the student will be building a Professional Electronic Portfolio to use in their job search. Students will be meeting with the Practicum Facilitator as requested to review progress. Each student will be under the supervision of the Program Chair and a Practicum Advisor at their respective practicum site. Attendance at all scheduled workshops and practicum appointments are compulsory.

Prerequisite: In order to be approved for a practicum placement, the student must maintain a standing Grade Point Minimum Average (GPA) of 2.0. Other factors will also be considered such as preparedness for practicum and professional behavior. Part-time students will be approved for practicum only after they have successfully completed enough courses as identified by the Education Assistant Professional Program.

Learning Outcomes:

As a result of active participation in these sessions, a student can expect to:

- Explain the duties and responsibilities associated with being an education assistant.
- Demonstrate knowledge of organizational objectives and processes used in the workplace setting.
- Columbia's Code of Professional Behavior as it applies to an Education Assistant.
- Demonstrate how to deal with ethical dilemmas in an appropriate professional manner.
- Understand principles guiding your practice, including legal implications of practice.
- Articulate relationships between classroom topics and situations encountered during the practicum.
- Communicate in a professional manner and use methods appropriate to a professional environment.
- Think critically to solve problems, anticipate outcomes, use and organize information.
- Demonstrate appropriate workplace attitudes and behaviors (responsibility, accountability, initiative, trustworthiness, diligence, friendliness, empathy, etc.).
- Work effectively and harmoniously with others to achieve results: show leadership, initiative, conflict resolution skills, etc.
- Describe developing insights into one's own preferences, aptitudes, work habits, style of interaction, and learning processes (developing self-awareness).
- Develop resume writing and job search skills; learn interviewing techniques and job application strategies

Course Format:

This online course consists of a remote classroom component and a field placement (practicum). You will experience a variety of teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The classroom (in person and online) provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner. Your field placement (practicum) provides you with an opportunity to become immersed in the real world of functioning as an education assistant. You will begin your field experience early in your program and gradually gain practical knowledge, apply theory you learn in class, and meet the challenges of everyday practical experiences, gaining self-awareness and confidence.

You are expected to take a very active part in class discussions (in person and online) and take responsibility for your own learning in addition to being a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate your learning. The expectation is that you will come to class prepared with reading and assignments completed. An enthusiastic, positive and respectful approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success as a professional.

The practicum classes are designed to bring about your self-awareness and professional growth. You must be ready to embrace change. You are expected to talk about your practicum experiences, asking questions of your facilitator and your colleagues, and engaging in relevant and important topics on being an educational assistant. An important component is to understand your roles and responsibilities and the legal implications of being an educational assistant. To help you prepare for interviewing for a job, you will be actively responding to interview questions in most of your classes to help you feel comfortable in doing this.

How you conduct yourself in your classes (engagement) will, to a large extent, mirror your conduct in society and your future work site. For example, if you have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from your colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely you will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the classroom as you work towards your goal. This demonstration of professional growth is important as it will form the basis from which your practicum facilitator will consider if they will provide you with a job reference if requested and help determine to what degree you have met the course requirements. Many aspects go into this picture such as: your attendance and participation at practicum classes, the quality of your reflective journals, the quality of your portfolio and the professionalism of your communication, both electronic and in class.

Reflective Journal

Due Date: Every practicum class after Orientation – (Total: 6)

Weight: Pass/Fail at the end of course evaluation

You will be submitting an electronic copy of a reflective journal (minimum of 350 - 400 words) typed, double-spaced, spell and grammar checked in a word document each time you come to your practicum class. You are asked to apply critical thinking by synthesizing knowledge, skills and behaviours from both the classroom experience and your practicum experience.

John C. Maxwell, a New York Bestselling Author, and author of the book, "How Successful People Think", states that, "Reflective thinking is like the Crock-Pot of the mind. It encourages your thoughts to simmer until they're done...By mentally visiting past situations, you can think with greater understanding. (p.72).

The rationale for this exercise is that you will understand yourself better and gain solid knowledge, professional attitudes, and skills that are required for success as an Education Assistant. The Practicum Facilitator will give you feedback on your journals. This is the method your facilitator will be using to communicate with you on the progress you are making at self-awareness and reflective thinking.

Professional E-Portfolio

Due Date: January 2021

Weight: Pass/Fail at the end of course evaluation

Employers are seeking Educational Assistants who are knowledgeable in both global and specific areas. These individuals are able to provide evidence of learning and growth through a Professional Portfolio that they will use at their job interview or when seeking a future new position. In this course, you will receive specific information on how to develop a Professional Electronic Portfolio. Information is provided in your Education Assistant Handbook – Practicum Section.

While your E-Portfolio will be graded on a Pass/Fail basis, you will also receive an evaluation that indicates whether it is outstanding, good, satisfactory, developing or unsatisfactory (fail). Please see the attached rubric.

You will present your E-Portfolio in a Fireside Chat one-on-one with Program Chair using Microsoft Teams.

Participation and engagement in practicum classes

Due Date: Final evaluation

Weight: Pass/Fail at the end of course evaluation

Students are expected to be prepared for each practicum class and be actively and thoughtfully engaged. This is an opportunity for you to develop your professional skills in a safe setting. Please see the attached Student Engagement Evaluation rubric.
